Annex 1 to certificate no. 361/21

Definition of processing activities

AppsFlyer is a mobile attribution and analytics platform on a Software as a Service (SaaS) basis. The customer of AppsFlyer are using the platform for optimization of advertising campaigns. Events in an app published by an AppsFlyer customer are correlated with ads shown in partner networks (like Facebook or Twitter). This way AppsFlyer customers can easily generate insights which ad campaign drives their users and also what is the actual life time value of a user.

AppsFlyer receives end-user data in two different ways:

- Directly via the mobile device, if an app developer integrates the AppsFlyer SDK in the app. In this case, the app is sending the data directly to the AppsFlyer Web Handlers.
- Indirectly via Server to Server Calls. The data will be sent from the Customers Backend to AppsFlyer. This case is used if the customer aggregates the data by themselves or just is not using the AppsFlyer SDK but is collecting event data from the app by themselves.
